(Opposite Ladies' Entrance to City Hotel) FASSMANN'S PATENT IRON TIES!

THE above, cull represents three of the Button and three of the Buckle Tie as they appear on a bale of cotton.

The hoop for the button is punched with two holes at one end and fifteen at the other. The band has only to be drawn tight, the holes in the two ends to be brought together,—the two bole end on top—and the button inserted. One button will answer, but it is better to insert two.

With the Buckle Tie, one end of the hoop is fastened to one section of the Buckle the other end is inserted in the other section, and simply shoved through it under the other end as long as there is any slack. A bite on the buckle holds it securely to to its place. to its place.

The hoops are painted to prevent rust, and cut in lengths of 10, 104 and 11 feet. Ten feet are most generalized. erally used, but 10; and 11 are sometimes required for large bales. The buckles are fastened to the hoops, the buttons will be put up in small boxes.

The Weight is About 10 Pounds to the Bale of The advantages of iron over rope for balling cotton bale in a much smaller compass, is applied and fastened with as much facility, both in the country tened with as much facility, both in the country pressing and the re-compressing at the sea ports; lessens immensely the risk from fire; is stronger, and its strength is not impaired by time and exposure as is that of rope. This last advantage has beed strikingly manifested during the war. Thousands of bales of Cotton have been lost by the rotting and breaking of Rope which could have been preserved if Iron hoops had been used. In addition to this, it cam be furnished cheaper than Rope. The derangement of labor in the hemp growing States has reduced the supply of hamp to such an extent as to cause prices to rule unprecedently high: indeed a sufficiency for baling a moderate cotton crop, cannot be relied on at any price.

I have arranged for the importation of a large quantity of the best English Iron, and have made arrangements with Measrs. Chambers & Latting for the sale and delivery of my Ties.

The undersigned, Fire Warden and Fire Inspector of the New Orleans Insurance Companies, are of opinion that the Iron Tie affords greater protection against loss in case of fire than the old style of baling with rope.

J. YOUENES, Fire Warden,
JOHN ADAMS, Fire Inspector. I concur in the above,

SHIP REFUGE, NEW OBLEANS, July 7, 1859. Ship Refuge, New Obleans, July 7, 1859.

H. Fasemann, Esq., Orleans Cotton Press:

Six: In January last I received from your Press 1089 bales of cotton, of which about 1000 were recompressed and bound with your new "Iron Tie." I can safely affirm that the cotton so bound was received in better order than it generally comes from the Presses, that it stowed better, and enabled the ship to carry more than on any previous voyage!

The cotton when discharged from the ship in Liverpool, was in better order than the rope bound cotton; it is highly preferable for a ground tier, as dampness from the ballast has no effect upon it, for it is well known by practical men that dampoess will rot the rope bound. I can confidently recommend your "Iron Tie," as I took this lot for an experiment and carefully watched it both in leading and discharging.

I am Sir, Yours Respectfully, JOHN HOWARD, Master CHAMBERS & LATTING.
